

Guide to using the Cafédirect Image Gallery

The Cafédirect image gallery has been designed for supporters, campaigners, researchers, members of the press, and organisations who wish to reproduce Cafédirect logos, photographs, and product images.

How to download high resolution Cafédirect images: Select an image and click on the “download image” link, which is situated below and to the right of the photograph.

Terms of use for Cafédirect images:

Cafédirect retains the copyright of all images. Commercial use or publication of all or any item displayed here is strictly prohibited without prior, written authorisation from Cafédirect.

You are allowed to reproduce Cafédirect images from this gallery for non-commercial use without formal permission, but only in accordance with the rules stated in this guide. Non-commercial use (for presentations, educational materials, and free publications) is permitted as long as:

1. You are producing material that is to be circulated to or viewed by less than 500 people. If your material is to be circulated to or viewed by more than 500 people, for example, signs, posters, leaflets or guides, Cafédirect must first approve the artwork. To obtain approval for any such material, please contact pressoffice@cafedirect.co.uk.
2. Images must be credited as: Source: Cafédirect (www.cafedirect.co.uk)
3. Images may not be altered or modified, and should be reproduced in their entirety using the correct colours and resized in ratio.
4. Photos cannot be resold in digital, slide, print, or any other format; nor can they be rented, leased, or given to third parties.

Use of the logo:

The Cafédirect logo has been specially designed and must not be redrawn or modified in any way. In particular, the logo should:

1. Be reproduced exactly as it appears when downloaded in terms of ratio, colour and background colour.
2. Be reproduced at a minimum size. Specifically, the minimum size at which the logo should print is 20mm (height). The minimum on-screen size of the logo is 60 pixels in height.

Crediting Cafédirect images:

All photos from this website must be credited in the following way:
